two ...

walking a path that we once said is just a dream

dreaming far beyond one's own lands walking evenly though – at the same time – hesitantly

stopping again and again

step by step walking onwards into the tempting unknown walking while not knowing exactly ...

walking full of foreboding and full of hopes ...

being subject to one another in a soft, mutual strengthening any of the given pitches; any octaves.

playing simultaneously, evoking a soft and even pulsation.
